

Our Diversity Commitment

As the soul of our community, The Summit Foundation holds fast to certain unwavering principles. We stand together with our community against any form of injustice or prejudice. We are committed to work to reduce judgement, inequity and stigma that persists based on race, ethnicity, gender, and sexual orientation. We stand behind and support the organizations and individuals who serve our population and recognize they are too often unseen, unheard, and underserved.

We will respect, see, listen, and help our friends and neighbors plagued by prejudice or bigotry, those who struggle with mental illness, and those who daily face fear or uncertainty. We recognize making Summit County ever better means making it better for every person who calls Summit County home-whether for a week, a month, or every day of the year. We are learning, and we know there is no finish line to making things better. That is the challenge, that is our ongoing journey.
